Delphine Brody has presented nationally on the critical importance of trauma-sensitive, culturally responsive, prevention-based approaches, peer support and crisis alternatives.

As a co-founder and organizer of the Sacramento Icarus Project, she is co-creating a community of resilience based on mutual aid, collective resistance to intersecting structures of oppression, and the honoring of mad gifts.

Also a co-founder and organizer of the Sacramento Women's Council, Delphine organizes locally and nationally in a broad range of struggles including intersectional feminism, racial justice, disability justice, trans justice, housing, labor, democracy, human rights and socioeconomic justice.
